8,409 SIGNATURES of Granite City residents seeking a special election to determine the question of an appointive or elective street superintendent are contained in this bundle of petitions presented Tuesday night by Mrs. Mildred Crider to City Clerk Robert Stevens. The petitions request a special election be set Oct. 4. At the desk in left center background is Mayor Paul Schuler. (Press-Record Photo)

Ordinance for elective office to be prepared

A five-inch-thick bundle of petitions bearing 8,409 signatures of Granite City residents who are calling for a special referendum to settle the issue of elective or appointive status for the street superintendent of street's office was filed with city officials Tuesday night.

Filing of the petitions, along with a request that the city's Electoral Board set Oct. 4 as the date of the referendum, was the result of events that included an unsuccessful attempt to rescind the April 26 council vote which changes the street superintendent's office from an elective to an appointive one.

This was followed by council action that instructed City Attorney George Filloff to prepare for the council's July 19 meeting still another ordinance that also will propose the April 26 change in the office status be rescinded.

The petitions were presented during the regular council meeting Tuesday night to City Clerk Robert Stevens by Mrs. Mildred Crider, who spearheaded a campaign to secure petition signatures urging a special vote on the controversial issue with the city's street superintendent shall be appointed or elected.

Lionel Portell, now city street superintendent, serves as an elected official. Under the April 26 council vote, a street superintendent would be appointed by the mayor, subject to concurrence by council members, upon expiration of Portell's term in 1979.

Noticing that petitions were to be filed was among communications presented at the opening of the council meeting by Stevens.

The letter, sent to Stevens as a communication, said:

"The citizens of Granite City have recently responded overwhelmingly to a petition drive providing that the office of superintendent of streets of the city of Granite City should be elective rather than appointive. Numerous volunteers have spent many hours of their time to assure the success of this petition drive.

"As provided in Section 28-1,

In a fast-moving development marked by little advance notice, a new Granite City Council member and the appointment of one of the participants as city inspector was approved unanimously by the council Tuesday night.

The switch was triggered by a letter of resignation from Seventh Ward Alderman Emerald Dawes, a council member for 14 years, followed immediately by the appointment by Mayor Paul Schuler of Ronald Coleman, a former alderman, to succeed Dawes.

Later in the meeting, Schuler appointed Dawes as city in-

Improvement of the railroad grade crossing on Niedringhaus Avenue which is to include concrete and automatic signalization and widening of the street at a cost totaling more than $300,000 has been authorized by the Illinois Commerce Commission. Granite City Council members were informed Tuesday night.

The ICC order was issued on a petition by four operating railroads using the tracks, in which they propose to finance the improvement with the help of the Grade Crossing Protection Fund maintained by the Illinois Department of Transportation.

The railroads to which the authorization has been issued include the Norfolk & Western, Terminal Railroad Association, Illinois Central Gulf and Consolidated Rail Corp.

The order was directed to the city of Granite City which will be required to pay part of the cost of the street widening.

and resurfacing of Niedringhaus Avenue. Mayor Paul Schuler told the council that at the total cost, Granite City will be required to spend about $90,000.

The railroads petitioned the ICC last May 20 for an order to install automatic controls with relocation of signal gates at a portion of Niedringhaus Avenue in the vicinity of the tracks, will be the only phase of the work in which Granite City will be involved or required to pay part of the cost.

The order set out that estimated cost of the signalization work is $152,576, with crossing and track work to cost another $121,436 and the street work to cost about $35,000.

Ask Madison to reconsider

Madisonians opposed to establishment of an industry in the 1700 block of Edwardsville Road decided Tuesday night to ask the city government to reconsider its approval of the firm.

The group also persuaded Attorney Leon Scroggins to make a preliminary study of the industry.

The citizens conferred Tuesday night and plan to meet again at 7 tonight at 500

Madison Ave.

A delegation may attend the next Madison City Council meeting July 12 to seek to review the topic with municipal officials.

Eight Madison residents have signed a statement outlining their views.

Truck driver killed today

A tractor-trailer went out of control on Interstate 270 and crashed from the overpass down onto Route 203, (Nameoki Road) at 9:15 a.m. today, fatally injuring the driver.

Jack Kelly, Shoals, Ind., was pronounced dead at the scene at 9:40 a.m. today by Madison County Deputy Coroner Edward Werner.

Kelly was driving for Jeferson Trucking Co., National City, Mich.

A witness said he was following the truck out onto the highway when the accident occurred.

The truck was traveling at the speed limit when the tire blew out and the truck went out of control, swerved sharply to the right and went down the steep embankment.

The flatbed trailer, carrying plasterboard panels, went into the air and came down on top of the tractor, crushing the top of the tractor down on the driver's cab.

A citizens' band radio operator was responsible for alerting authorities of the accident, which blocked all four lanes of Route 203.

The tractor and trailer blocked the northbound lanes and the cargo load which spilled blocks of gypsum.

Madison County sheriff's deputies, aided by Illinois state troopers, attempted to divert traffic around the accident scene, but many cars were at a standstill for more than half an hour.

Police noted no other vehicles were involved in the accident and no one except the driver was injured.

Union employees of Illinois Power Co. will go on strike at midnight today due to failure to reach agreement on a new contract.

Supervisory personnel will continue to operate the company's facilities, Johnson Kandy, assistant to the president of Illinois Power, told the Press-Record.

He said the strike will affect 2,440 members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) in locals 31, 306, 309 and 702. IBEW represents the vast majority of IP's 2,700 union-affiliated employees. It is not known if other unions will honor the IBEW picket lines.

Kandy said the strike will affect 100,000 customers and interruptions of electrical or natural gas service are anticipated. Several power outages throughout the system yesterday, he said, were due to the high electrical demand from air conditioners, and are not believed related to labor problems, he emphasized.

While not all of the IBEW contractors with IP have expired, all four locals agreed to abide by the contract deadline of Local 51, the largest local. That contract expired July 1.

The unions have continued to work the past week with the understanding that any raise negotiated in that contract will be retroactive to July 1, it was explained.

A 10-day strike notice was issued and expired at midnight.

Plaintiffs are expected to be placed outside most IP facilities at midnight.

Although Kandy said he is uncertain what issues have deadlocked negotiations, one source has indicated they feel a recent rate increase granted to IP by the Illinois Commerce Commission has not been reflected in wages the company has offered. The company's final contract was rejected.

No "last-minute" negotiations to avoid the strike are planned and a date for a hearing has not yet been set according to Kandy, who added neither side has yet contacted a federal mediator.

Mr. Ray was born in St. Louis and served 20 years in the Air Force in the U.S. Army, with service in the Korean Conflict and Vietnam. He retired with the rank of staff sergeant. He moved to this area eight years ago.

The Granite City Council Tuesday night officially approved a 25-cent increase in the basic fare and for tabs operating from Granite City.

The new rate ordinance, passed unanimously, also increases the charge for each extra passenger by 10 cents and reduces the hours in which senior citizens may get reduced fares.

Granted permission to raise their rates immediately were Dave's Taxi Service and Checker Cab Co., the only services operating from Granite City.

The 25-cent basic fare increase can not be added each time a taxi cab crosses from one zone to another. The ordinance charging the increase more than one time each trip.

The 10-cent increase in fare for each passenger in a taxi cab that rate from 25 cents to 35 cents, and the new hours in which senior citizen discounts will be offered are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily.

Volunteers for hobo jungle cleanup sought

Additional volunteers are being sought on Saturday to help clean an area known as "hobo jungle," which is being used by youths for beer parties, glue sniffing, marijuana smoking and other illegal activities.

Tickets have been donated for Saturday's cleanup activity and hot dogs, potato chips, coffee and refreshments will be provided for those aiding in the cleanup.

A citizens' group organizing the activity plans to cut down small trees and bushes used by the youths to hide when police are called.

The hobo jungle is on the east side of the railroad tracks near the north end of Princeton Drive. It is hoped that cleaning up the area and removing debris, trash, will end that area's use as a place for youths to gather, drink and smoke marijuana.

Persons wishing to donate their services may contact Barry L. Rideout, 321 Park Lane, at 876-9698.

HAZARDOUS HABIT. Numerous vehicles ignore the warning of crossing gates at the West Pontoon Road railroad crossing despite the many tragic crashes which have occurred at the crossing. The eight Granite City Police Sergeant Gerald Pinkerton was promoted to the rank of lieutenant and Donald Knight was promoted to the rank of sergeant in action Tuesday night by the Granite City Council.

The promotions were made retroactive to July 1 when Lt. Kenneth Watts retired.

Knight is expected to remain in the detective division under action taken by the council, but not yet formalized, to add one sergeant's rank to the detective department. That rank is expected to be assigned to the detective division, and be filled by Knight. The council will be asked to formalize the additional sergeant's position July 19.

Pinkerton started in the police department Aug. 1, 1958, in the patrol division and was transferred to the traffic division in 1966. He was promoted to sergeant in 1971 and returned to the patrol division.

He has received 16 letters of commendation, including eight for eight consecutive years without a sick day.

In 1969, he was commended for apprehending three youths during a burglary at Franklin High School and for apprehending a man inside a service station during a burglary.

In 1974, he received letters of commendation for arresting a youth burglarizing a Sears, Roebuck & Co. trailer and for arresting another burglar in Franklin Junior High School.

In 1975, the Madison County Sheriff's Department recommended him for promotion to the investigation of a double homicide, and he was commended for arresting two youths involved in a house burglary.

He has attended numerous police schools and seminars, including the 24-hour basic police training course. Classroom work has been in riot control, mobile vehicles, community relations, police tele-type emergency treatment, radar operation, fingerprinting, operating a breath analyzer, and police supervision.

Knight is married and has a family.

Knight joined the police force Oct. 1, 1976, in the patrol division and was promoted to the detective division in 1974 as a detective and juvenile officer.

He has received 15 commendations, including five for perfect attendance on the job. In 1972 he was commended for apprehending a youth after a motorcycle accident.

In 1973, he received a commendation for apprehending youths in a stolen car and clearing several burglaries with these arrests and investigation.

ECLIPSES OF THE SUN: WHY AND WHEN

Eclipses of the Sun can occur only during a new moon, when the moon is between the Earth and the Sun:

A total solar eclipse can only be seen from that part of the Earth where the moon's shadow falls on the Earth. The maximum width of the shadow is 269 kilometers. Since the moon revolves around the Earth at about 34,000 miles per month, the moon's shadow sweeps along the surface of the Earth at the same speed. Therefore, totality at any one spot is quite short, having a maximum duration of 7 1/2 minutes.

A partial solar eclipse will be seen by people on either side of the moon's shadow cone. An annular eclipse occurs when the moon's shadow does not quite reach the Earth's surface, a condition that occurs frequently.

The word "annular" derives from the Latin word annulus, meaning "ring." Because the moon is not large enough to cover the disk of the Sun under this condition an annulus, or ring, of the edge of the Sun will be seen around the edge of the moon.

During totality the sky is darkened and stars are visible. Some flowers close and chickens and other birds roost. The atmosphere and landscape take on eerie and strange colors.

Unlike lunar eclipses which have little scientific value, solar eclipses are studied intensively by astronomers. The Sun's stars be seen in the same part of the sky where the Sun is.

We do not have a solar eclipse each month during the new moon, even though there is a new moon each month, because the moon moves quickly past either above or below the Sun as seen from the Earth. The next partial eclipse of the Sun visible in Illinois will be in 1994, with others in the years 2017 and 2024.

WARNING: Should you be fortunate enough to be in the path of a solar eclipse, never look at the Sun directly. Rays from the Sun are powerful and can damage your eyes. Always project an image of the Sun through a telescope onto a white piece of cardboard, or use a pinhole system for projection.

Professor Schweighauser invites questions from interested readers. One question each month will be selected for discussion in this column.

How can a conscientious alderman perform duties if can't rely on basic procedural rules? — Douglas

"In order to dispel any possible misconception on the part of the public with regard to my action on the City Council, I offer the following information. First, Ward Alderman Charles R. Douglas told the Press-Record yesterday.

"According to Granite City Ordinance 3335 passed by the City Council on June 1, 1976, the City Council is required on the fourth Tuesday of every month to conduct a shortened meeting that includes only a roll call, reading of petitions and presentation of communications and adjournment for committee meetings.

"By law, therefore, no other business can be considered. This is the plain and simple, like any other laws.

"As an established American democracy, we have laws that state that if you run a stop sign you may be ticketed and if you run a red light you may be given a ticket.

"We are all required to obey the law, including ex-President Nixon, the Supreme Court, Granite City alderman and Mayor Schuler. If the City Council flouts the law, then, reasons the average citizen, 'Why can't I?'

"An unidentified woman of the First Ward wrote a letter to the Press-Record Forum criticizing my insistence that the City Council follow the law. I am proud of my action and will defend it to the best of my ability before anyone.

"The First Ward woman stated I have no regard for protocol. Well, if she attends council meetings she would find that I'm one of the very few who have regard for protocol.

"Mr. Clyde Boyd, 3rd Ward alderman, made a motion of special privilege last Tuesday night, June 20. A cursory examination of Robert's Rules of Order would inform even the novice parliamentarian that no such motion exists; much less takes precedence over a motion to adjourn.

"I am a member of the Ordinance Committee, not one committee meeting has been called.

"Instead, the city attorney prepares the ordinances and places them down in front of Alderman 'Chick' Poulos, the power and undoubtedly illegal," Alderman Douglas alleged.

"There is no rhyme or reason to the manner in which city business is conducted.

"An alderman stand up and speak out of turn, get up out of their chairs to talk with someone—often loudly disturbing whoever is currently speaking, they haven't studied the rules or even read.

"The mayor often disregards Robert's Rules of Order, which are by ordinance the rules to be followed by the council. One may ask, 'Why do you insist that the rules be followed?'

"Simply because, rules there is clarity. And when there comes incompetence, disillusionment, uncertainty, disregard for minority rights, and the opportunity for fraud and deceit."

"Since I have been selected as a member of the Ordinance Committee, not one committee meeting has been held, a few minutes before each meeting, to be read and passed upon.

"There is no discussion or review of the ordinance by the committee, no recommendations, no report—only the quick reading of the ordinance by the chairman to motion to suspend the rules and, if passed, a roll call vote on ordinances.

"When I ran for alderman I told the people that I would listen to their problems and give them an answer within a reasonable time frame.

"I had no idea that so many procedures.

"As Thomas Jefferson stated, 'All authority belongs to the people.' It's about time Granite City government follows that principle."

"I invite all concerned citizens to attend the council meetings. Make your own decision on how your city is run. If you have a problem, not just from neighborhood rumor or biased newspaper articles," Douglas concluded.

Elected to the council in April

He is an attorney.

plaintiff informed, voiced an allegation of political rigging of the list during a luncheon discussion with several club members yesterday.

"I don't want to make this an accusation, but they must have shown me the list at the end of time," Decatur said. "How else could the sons of three families so much involved in politics head a group of 51 applicants?" The complaint was filed a short time later yesterday.

While he stopped short of a formal charge, Decatur's allegation raised doubts in the minds of some of Wednesday's listeners as to whether there has been politicization of tests leading to eligibility for hiring as a firefighter.

"It's simply not true, and if he says that to me about it I'll call him a liar," Fire Chief Parente responded vigorously.

Decatur is a former member

The written testing battery test for about 25 who had passed. After the agility

"fail," 21 were given oral tests and then ranked in the order of their overall scores, Parente said.

Decatur referred to three applicants—Nelson Hagnauer

Jr., son of Granite City

Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer;

Gregory Becker, son of George

Becker, a former member of the Board of Fire and Police

Commissioners; and Ron

Parente, son of the fire chief.

"My son might have been in the top 20 after the written test, but he received no oral test because he failed on agility. So, it's untrue that he appeared on scores," Chief Parente asserted.

The chief said he suggested to his son and two others who applied for him that they read a also sold at area bookstores.

"Everyone was told that this book includes information

there is never anything available on what future test

questions may be," Parente

said.

"Human nature might slightly affect the way verbal examinations are scored, but to be fair," the chief added.

Burch agreed today with

Parente that the test was given

Dawes

spector to fill a vacancy created by the death of the late Ernest E. Ell. Mr. Ell, who served as city inspector five years, died May 25.

The action came as a surprise to many, although reports that Dawes was still fit for the inspector's post were circulated before the meeting Tuesday.

Coleman returns to the City Council after an absence since May 1973 when the council reorganized and seated members elected in the April 5 city election.

Coleman served as alderman of the Seventh Ward from 1973 until this year, but did not seek re-election to that office. He instead as a candidate for city treasurer and was defeated.

Since Dawes last was re-elected in 1973, he was in the third year of his term when he resigns Tuesday night. As a result, Coleman will serve as alderman until 1979 when Dawes' term would have expired.

The council action developed during presentation of communications by City Clerk Robert Stevens. Among the communications was Dawes' letter of resignation.

As a past mayor Schuler asked that the council depart from its regular order of business and announced the appointment of Coleman as Seventh Ward alderman.

Alderman Goeff Parmyer moved that the aldermen concur in the mayor's appointment and the council voted unanimously to do so.

Stevens immediately adjourned the earth to the office to Coleman, who had been in the audience, during the proceedings, and Dawes, following usual council custom, escorted Coleman to his seat at the council table.

In a subsequent motion, Parmyer moved that Coleman assume the committee posts that had been held by Dawes.

Since committee posts are held by the council and the committee chairmen appointed by the mayor, Schuler then announced that Coleman also would assume the committee chairmanships held by Dawes.

As a result, Coleman will serve as a member of the council's Street and Alley, Negotiating, Special Sewer and Committee Committees. He will serve as chairman of the Sanitation Committee.

As city inspector, Dawes will receive $14,364 annually, although this office, like other city employee posts, is a state-wide average increase are granted by the city in preparation of its new budget.

Dawes, 54, of 17 Terrace Lane, served as an alderman from 1959 until 1961, and was elected again in 1963. He was elected in 1971 and 1975. He is a native of Venice and has lived in Granite City 51 years.

Coleman is 43 and lives at 245 Woodlawn Ave. He is an English teacher. He has been a Granite City resident since 1961.

Want bus stops replaced

The Bi-State Development

Agency came under fire Tuesday night at the Venice City Council meeting amid complaints that Bi-State has not customized bus stops, taken down during the construction of underpasses, causing people to walk long distances to catch a bus.

"I've called those people at least five times last week. I want to know who is responsible to, but I had to go through four people to reach him. Anyway, I was promised that without fail, they will be over Friday or today and put up those bus stops again," Mayor William Ebersold said.

Third Ward Alderman John Ervin said, "They seem to be full of promises at Bi-State, but all they got is a bunch of planes. We in the Third Ward have to get a short end from Bi-State. They promised us three or four shelters, but we got one. With the money Illinois puts in, we could have been better off."

Surveys indicate five families not able to get out of their homes by car on the north end of Kerr Island when the new Route 151 opens was expressed. It was noted that there may be a need to reopen Garner Road as the only way the people can get out now is to drive on the levee.

A bus stop permit was proposed in the amount of $125 for a five-room mobile home belonging to Julius Johnson at 1221 Calhoun St.

McKinley Bridge Manager Thomas F. Foy said the Bi-State cost for this month of June is 276,518 vehicles for a daily average of 9,217, which is an increase from June 1976 of 7,917 vehicles a day.

"I think the bridge construction is still ahead of schedule and proceeding at a good pace on bridge repairs. There is no real problem with traffic flow and more and more people seem to be realizing the convenience of our bridge to the St. Louis area," Foy said.

A request for the use of city property at Klein and Bissell streets by the Trinity Church of God in Christ was given conditional approval.

The church must show proof of liability insurance for the period from July 15 through Aug. 5 when they intend to hold revival meetings.

FOUR CHARGES FILED
Jeffery Haynes, 16, Lee Winkler, Howard Young, 16, were charged by Madison police with disobeying a stop sign, no drivers license, no valid registration and resisting arrest. When stopped by Madison police today at 8 a.m., allegedly running the same sign at Second Street and Washington Avenue, Haynes attempted to flee the scene on foot, police said.

The request, signed by S. E. Pershall of the grocery firm, noted that a liquor license at the store would increase business at the store and result in high sales tax revenue for the city.

The request referred the matter to Mayor Schuler who is the city's liquor control commissioner, followed by the mayor's request that he be given time to review a committee to study the request. Committee members are to be named later.

Funeral services will be held at 8 p.m. today at Mount Zion Baptist Church, Madison, for Mrs. Ola Silverman, 76, of 500 Mercedia St., Venice.

She died July 3 at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Irene Byrd of Madison and Mrs. Ada King of Port Clinton, Ohio; and two brothers, A. C. Butler of Madison and James Butler of Chicago.

Legion adds two wins, hosts Fairview Friday

Tri-City Post 113's baseball contest tomorrow at 6 p.m. on the GCBS. Sunday's game against Fairview Heights is considered by Manager Conrad Champion as a crucial situation for his Legionnaires, who have won 12 and lost two contests in District 2 American Legion Little League competition.

Tri-City topped Bettendorf 6-1 Tuesday and beat Bettendorf 6-1 yesterday, playing both here.

"All the other teams in our division (12) have lost either six or seven games thus far," said Champion.

With five league contests remaining before District 22 playoffs begin July 19, Post 113 plays at Alton tonight at 6 p.m. on Fairview Heights here tomorrow.

This Saturday and Sunday, Tri-City will participate in a national tournament at the Girardeau, Mo., area, playing Bettendorf, Alton, and Fairview Heights.

Next week, Post 113 travels to Missouri Tuesday, and then concludes its regular schedule with two home contests, Collinsville on Wednesday, July 13, and Alton on Friday, July 15.

Against Bettendorf and Bettendorf this week, Tri-City's pitcher's staff was strong although temperatures were in the high 90s.

Yesterday, Eldon Warfield improved his record on the mound to 10 by striking a two-hitter, including a triple in the second inning which led to Bettendorf's only run.

Warfield in 23 innings has allowed only two earned runs.

He gave up two walks and fanned six opposing batters last night.

At Bettendorf, his fellow pitcher, Paul Evans, went two-for-three at the plate and batted in four runs while serving as a fielder.

Randy Smith started a three-run first inning for Tri-City with a single, followed by Keith Chapman's triple on an error.

Larry Heaps reached base when an infielder threw out Chapman at second on a error and Mike Clark singled in a run.

Following a single by Evans in the fourth, Clark blasted a two-run home over the leftfield fence for the three tallies.

Lakin then singled in the sixth, driving in a run after Clark had walked and Evans had reached base.

Tri-City in the North Division standings are Highland 8-6 and Belleville 7-7.

Belleville heads the South Division at 9-3, and Fairview is in second place with an 8-4 record.

Ordinance

Chapter 46, Illinois Revised Statutes, 1975, please find attached hereto petitions containing 8,409 signatures.

"This is well in excess of the 25 per cent of the registered voters of the city of Granite City. Pursuant to Article 7 of the Illinois Revised Statutes, I respectfully demand that you convene the Electoral Board of the city of Granite City for the purpose of holding a special election to be held Oct. 11, 1977.

"The said referendum to be held under the authority of Article 7, Section 6 (1) and 11 of the Constitution of Illinois 1970.

The above letter was signed by Mrs. Crider.

Alderman Charles Douglas of the First Ward who has opposed consistently the action concerning the street superintendent's office as an appointive position said that he understood the petitions were to be presented by Mrs. Crider.

He made a motion that Mrs. Crider be permitted to present the petition to Stevens.

Mrs. Crider approached Stevens' desk with the bundle of petitions and asked the city clerk for a receipt. Stevens was in the process of service, which was in the present case would be Alderman Whitmer.

Alderman Earl Baker of the Sixth Ward moved that the petitions be referred to City Attorney John Filcoff and the Electoral Board.

After communications were disposed of and the order of business moved to action on ordinances, Alderman John Paul Ray, chairman of the Ordinance Committee, said he had an ordinance that had been prepared by Alderman Douglas and not by the city attorney.

"What do you want me to do with this?" Poulos asked on a voice vote.

Without receiving an answer, Poulos said he would read it and place it on the table, leaving further action up to the council members.

The ordinance called for rescinding the April 26 council vote establishing the superintendent of street's office as an appointive office. The measure said the street superintendent upon passage of the ordinance would be elected in accordance with prior procedure.

Douglas explained that he had suggested the ordinance for the ordinance to be avoided the expense of an election.

He noted that "I am presenting this now because the more than 8,400 signatures on the petition indicate that the people want an elected superintendent of streets."

Alderman Paul Ray Bowler of the Seventh Ward asked, "Can anyone bring in an ordinance like this?"

Whitmer replied that "We have had a vote here several years that the city attorney is to bring in all ordinances. I know that 8,000 signatures are being collected, the people want an elected street superintendent. In fact I got some of those signatures—and if Filcoff had brought in this ordinance, I would vote for it."

But "I won't vote for it this way. I won't vote on any ordinance prepared by anyone on the council. I'm for this. It would save the city money. But I would be for it under this procedure."

Douglas, however, moved for a suspension of rules to place the ordinance on final passage after he told the council that although he is a member of the Ordinance Committee, "We've

Railroad

Alderman Roy Poulos asked if anything is being done to improve the railroad crossing at 20th and 22nd streets and was told by Mayor Schuler that before the meeting they don't know what is in them.

Douglas' motion to suspend the rules for final passage of the resounding ordinance was seconded by Alderman Warren Decker of the Fourth Ward.

"I don't think there is anyone here who doesn't know what this is all about," Decker said.

On a roll call vote on the resounding motion, the 14 council members split 7 to 7.

Voting "no" were Whittmer, Clyde Boyd, Gerald Parmeley, Poulos, Baker, Glen Sprankle, and Roy Coleman. Voting "yes" were set by Douglas, Schuman, Decker, Lloyd Bailey, Mrs. Margaret Nunn, Bowler and Everett Morlen.

When Stevens asked for the 7 to 7 vote which defeated the suspension motion because a minimum of ten votes is needed, Douglas asked, "Doesn't the mayor vote on this?"

Schuler replied that "I was not here this week. Why I could not vote on a suspension motion. In fact, he added, "I think it was you who brought it up."

Customarily the mayor may vote to break a tie on regular issues, but he may not vote on the 14-man council (or ten votes) is required to carry a motion for suspension of rules.

Schuman then asked the council to vote again in order to make a motion instructing Filcoff to bring in an ordinance for rescinding the April 26 vote establishing the appointive status of the street superintendent.

There was no discussion so Schuman proceeded to make the motion, which was carried on a voice vote.

Tomato hornworms have arrived here

By CHRIS DOLL
Area Garden Advisor

Tomato hornworm, the big green worm and a caterpillar on one end, are now in this area. They damage the crop by eating leaves and causing defoliation.

Their presence is usually noted when stems are stripped of leaves or when worm droppings are seen on the ground.

Their coloration blends with the tomato plant, making them difficult to see, but a thorough search should reveal them.

Control is by sprays or dusts containing carbaryl or Bacillus thuringiensis or picking them off by hand. Treat as often as necessary.

Apparently normal and healthy blackberry plants may flower heavily and still fail to produce fruit.

This failure may be complete, with no fruit set at all, or it may be partial—with production of misshapen berries ranging from nearly normal in size to puny ones seen with only a single drupelet.

The production of such "nubbins" is generally caused by a virus disease. Affected plants produce no canes that are more vigorous than the leaves, and round leaflets are still normal. The leaves also develop a brilliant, premature autumn color.

After the affected plants are removed, new plants can be purchased from nurseries next spring.

All grapes need a healthy leaf surface to mature the fruit crops properly.

Improper nutrition and pruning, and excessive disease or insect damage on the foliage are among reasons grapes ripen unevenly; 2-4-D injury is another reason for delayed or uneven ripening frequently seen in southwestern Illinois.

"Concord" is the most widely grown grape in Illinois, is also one of the cultivars most susceptible to 2-4-D damage.

The young terminal growth is most easily and severely affected. Consequently, terminal leaves are small, narrow and misshapen, with closely packed, thick veins.

Vines showing such injury may also have delayed fruit ripening. On severely affected vines, fruits may never mature, regardless of the length of the season.

Some of the symptoms are now visible on grapes where 2-4-

Madison

the 1700 block of Edwardsville Road, the City of Granite City Hall upon written invitation of William L. Gushoff, chairman, Zoning and Planning Commission, for the purpose of expressing our approval or disapproval of the request for grants by the Zoning Board of a special use permit, for a business dealing with the sale and manufacture of marble products, to be located at 1701-17 Edwardsville Road.

"The existing zoning ordinance, as we understand it, would prohibit the establishment of a manufacturing plant at that address, and so it was easily side-stepped by the proposal of granting a special use permit to accommodate Mrs. Cornelia George, owner of the property in which she formerly operated a grocery store for 35 years.

"She also stated that her father-in-law had operated a grocery store there for 20 years, and that this would indicate that the building is 'old and possibly not in good enough condition to be made into a safe building for the operation of a business that we consider hazardous, inasmuch as it would involve the use of a flammable material, namely asbestos."

"Our block is classed and taxed as a residential area, with Harris School just across from this old store building."

"The proposed new plant will be set up to manufacture sink tops, vanities and other products containing marble."

"Anthony J. Galati testified at this meeting that in order to manufacture granite products he would need other ingredients with acetone, a highly flammable material, which he intends, he said, to store in a galvanized drum in and on said premises."

"We maintain that this is a very real threat to our health, safety and welfare, as well as a potential danger to the school children in the area and upon the streets in the vicinity."

"We very strongly object to the potential noise, toxic fumes, dust, extra traffic and other unforeseeable problems which may arise from the establishment of a manufacturing plant in a residential area such as ours."

"We maintain that this is a real threat to the community. We feel that the building should be restricted to such use as a grocery store, a drug store, a candy store or any other safe use which it is legally entitled to engage in."

"There is a beautiful brick house directly behind the burned-out residence at 1707 Edwardsville Road. If you lived there, would you like to have a hazardous, dirty, noisy plant practically in your front yard?"

"It is hard to believe that the 'old' house that took place at the time of the Council meeting that night could have occurred in this country."

"It is frightening to realize that there have no civil rights that are not entitled to, or allowed to, speak in our own behalf at these meetings, which are loudly proclaimed to be open to the public. That's a real laugh."

"We will not attend the meeting. The Zoning Board is to be commanded on his good, honest and capable interrogation of parties from both sides of this dispute."

"There are approximately eight witnesses against the establishment of this business, for the reasons already given, and only two who testified for the granting of the special use permit, namely Mrs. George and her alderman son-in-law, Donald Gryzwacz."

"I would like to say that she would like to sell her building, which she closed as a grocery store about a year ago."

"I would like to say the choice of a prospective business to be opened in that building is for the reasons already given."

"Mr. Gryzwacz testified that he had interviewed many people in support of this new plant, and he can't say who they are or, more importantly, where they live."

"They couldn't have been people from the area concerned because we are all against the plant, and were strongly represented at the meeting."

"It could be that they were residents and friends of his ward, which is some distance from the area in question."

"After testifying for his mother-in-law, Mr. Gryzwacz excused himself, saying that he had another meeting to go to. Can anyone guarantee that he was in the council room, where Mr. Gryzwacz and other aldermen and the mayor were waiting, after finishing their regular meeting."

"When the council got to the point of the petition, there were no city attorneys to represent the people when they have a question to ask or an objection."

"We couldn't get through the 'red tape' to make our voices heard."

"When we left the Zoning Board meeting room, where they had unanimously denied the petition of James W. White and Anthony J. Galati, it didn't take five minutes for the mayor's City Council to ignore us, listening only to Mr. Gryzwacz."

"They refused our right to be heard, and reversed the Zoning Board's decision, ramming it down their throats without giving us a single representation or letting us protest."

"We question that this was a legal procedure, and would like the matter looked into as an unfair practice."

"There is no question that upon the request of one alderman, who is related to the person trying to sell the property, the council overruled the Zoning Board and granted a special use permit to the petitioners over the rights of the majority who are most directly concerned."

"Is this democracy in action? Why establish a Zoning Board if they are powerless to enforce their own rules?"

"No matter how good and how fair and qualified they are, they appeared a mere figurehead in the city machine."

"What recourse do Citizens John and Jane Doe have when they are robbed of their civil rights? Who can they turn to?"

"How can we ever have respect for and belief in our city government when they do business in such a manner as this?"

"Is it possible that the City Council did not know there were no representatives of the people present to help us? We don't believe in such a manner as this."

"We believe it was deliberately planned this way—that the council deliberately used the opportunity to usurp our rights. Otherwise, they could have and should have postponed the hearing and ruling on this matter until proper procedures could be met and followed."

"We intend to leave no stone unturned in our efforts to get justice done, and to prevent the twisting of the law for the benefit of a chosen few. That's not what democracy and government is all about."

Bills approved by legislature include the death penalty, drug substitution, smoking ban and farm productivity tax

Press-Record Springfield Bureau — Legislators had a full quota of issues to excite the voters back home during their six-month session.

School funding close to the level sought by Governor James R. Thompson was voted by the Illinois legislature at about 3:30 a.m. Saturday, July 2, over the howling objections of opponents in the House of Representatives.

The Republican governor and Democratic legislators on July 1 called a special session of the General Assembly for Oct. 24. Topic of the special session, to be held in conjunction with the regular veto-override session, will be criminal justice and reorganization of the State Board of Elections.

The special session just concluded, the General Assembly was asked to legalize Laetrile, a substance alleged to be effective in treating cancer. Medical and federal authorities believe it has no effect at all on cancer, but a number of legislatures have voted to legalize its use within their states.

Illinois' bill was passed both houses and was sent to the governor. The bill changes the basis for assessing farm land and bases such assessments more on productivity than on the market value of the land. Farmers say inflation has driven the price of farmland up, but their income hasn't risen equally.

Bills that would have banned cigarette and beer bottles and cans in Illinois failed in the House.

On other issues, the legislators backed away from the concept of no-fault divorce and voted to put restrictions on elective abortions.

Numerous bills to reform the state's divorce laws were filed in the Senate. The Senate approved legislation to allow a woman to sue for a divorce on the basis of irretrievable breakdown of the marriage, but the House defeated the measure.

A second measure, which retains the concept that somebody is to blame when a marriage fails, was passed by both houses.

The bill is a comprehensive revision of the state's divorce laws that did not allow a woman to sue for a divorce on the basis of irretrievable breakdown of the marriage. It also would give a non-working spouse a share of the property at the time of a divorce.

Divorce also would become a "dissolution of marriage" as far as the law is concerned, and many other terms now in common usage would be changed.

The legislature voted to end abortions to women in welfare rolls, unless their lives are in danger.

Opponents argued that denial of elective abortions would increase the state's welfare costs, because women would seek illegal abortions and suffer injuries and possibly death as a result. However, both houses voted for a reduction in the Public Aid fund that was not used to pay for the medical procedure.

The legislature also decided that an unmarried woman under 18 years old must have the consent of a parent in order to have an abortion. She could seek a court order if she persisted in her desire for an abortion after her parent's refusal to approve it.

The legislature also passed legislation to allow druggists to substitute a less expensive medication for a brand name in filling a prescription, as long as the substances are identical in chemical composition.

Allowing a druggist to substitute would lower the cost of prescriptions, savings of the legislation contended.

Each house passed its own bill aimed at regulating hospital rates. However, neither bill won approval in the second house. The legislation is in study committees.

The General Assembly approved legislation requiring posting of information in restaurants on how to save persons who choke on food.

Another try at passing the federal Equal Rights Amendment was made in the House this spring, but the required 107 votes weren't available to approve it. The resolution to approve the amendment will remain on the House calendar so that it may be considered again later in the current legislature's two-year term.

The Assembly delayed or defeated most of the proposals affecting business that were before it this session.

Legislation lowering workers' compensation benefits was passed and signed into law by Gov. Thompson. The Illinois Chamber of Commerce still considers the bill inadequate.

Legislation to allow banks to have branches was defeated in the Senate. Bills to allow banks to have branches were more than one bank failed in both houses.

A bill amended to bring Illinois' unemployment compensation law into compliance with federal standards was left on the Senate calendar at the close of the session, and other bills to tighten eligibility requirements and reduce benefits were defeated.

Tax reform legislation for the state's farms passed both houses and was sent to the governor. The bill changes the basis for assessing farm land and bases such assessments more on productivity than on the market value of the land. Farmers say inflation has driven the price of farmland up, but their income hasn't risen equally.

Bills that would have banned cigarette and beer bottles and cans in Illinois failed in the House.

A proposal, backed by Atty. Gen. William Scott, to regulate the car repair business passed the House but was kept in committee in the Senate. An attempt to take the bill out of committee for floor consideration failed.

Public employee collective bargaining bills passed the House but were bottled up in the Senate Labor and Commerce Committee. Senate-filed collective bargaining bills were sent to a subcommittee of the Labor and Commerce Committee.

Bills that died in committee or on the legislative floor included an increase in motor fuel taxes from 7½ to 10 cents; a change in the primary election date to the second Tuesday in September in non-Presidential years; a raise in the minimuminking age to 21; a ban on employing illegal aliens in other than a seasonal capacity; for agriculture processing; permission for persons over 65 to defer real estate tax payments until after death; abolition of the Illinois Board of Education and election of the state school superintendent; regulation and inspection of elevators; and bills on legislators holding another public job.

Also "dying" were: higher taxes on alcohol; an increase in the cigarette tax; "lifeline" utility rates for homes; open meetings by the Illinois Commerce Commission; simpler court procedure for probating a will; required maternity and child care leave for mothers before birth; off utility service; free telephone service of two adults with the same last name in a household; open election primaries; damage payments for losses caused by land sinking over mines; and establishment of a board to oversee the state fair.

Bills forwarded to Gov. Thompson include a bill on overtime pay for executives; regulation of transporting hazardous materials over highways; a merit system for employees of the secretary of state; revision of state pension systems; a raise in parents' vandalism liability from $500 to $1,000; restoration of the death penalty (already signed into law); and mandatory life sentence after conviction on three felonies.

Also sent to the governor were: multi-year lease plan; a boost in the marriage tax; a raise from $10 to $20 a ban on smoking in public places, including hospitals; permission to have liquor in state buildings; a raise in legislators' office allowance from $12,000 to $17,000 a year; testing to detect high blood pressure; and establishment of a felony offense for involving a child in pornographic material.

The legislature also decided that an unmarried woman under 18 years old must have the consent of a parent in order to have an abortion. She could seek a court order if she persisted in her desire for an abortion after her parent's refusal to approve it.

Mr., Mrs. MacDonald closing music studio

Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacDonald, 1729 Primrose Ave., are announcing their retirement as music teachers at the St. Cecilia Music Studios, which they owned and operated in their home for four years.

Mrs. Orlana MacDonald has been a music teacher for 20 years and her husband serves as organist-chormaster at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, St. Louis, for 20 years, as well as teaching students in this area.

Mr. MacDonald conducted his final service at the St. Louis church June 26, with an organ recital which was followed by a reception in the church parlor, honoring his wife.

After 20 years' employment with the Mercantile Bank of St. Louis, Mr. MacDonald was also honored at a retirement dinner hosted by the bank and an office party given by his fellow workers.

The couple departed this week for an extended vacation to the West Coast including a visit to Victoria, British Columbia. After they return they will move to Philadelphia, Pa., where they will become residents at the Press Home for Retired Musicians.

Mr. MacDonald, who is formerly of Johnston, Pa., and her husband, a native of Pittsburgh, Pa., met while music students at Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh. They have resided in Granite City for 40 years.

THIS IS NO "SONG 'N DANCE" ABOUT "FRESH" CORN!

Did you know . . . that sweet corn on the cob, begins to lose its sugar content as soon as it is picked? If it is left uncooked it creates a heat which builds up the starch content and it loses some of its sweetness . . . That's why we have our growers chill their corn immediately after they pick it. Then they pack it in ice and bring it to our warehouse where we place it in our coolers and then ship it to our stores where the produce clerks put it out in our refrigerated cases to insure you the utmost in quality . . . We never let our corn set out in the heat . . . Think about it . . .

Higher payments for school lunch, breakfast and child care programs

Carol Tucker Foreman, assistant secretary of Agriculture for food and consumer services, has announced that the school lunch, breakfast and child care programs will receive increased payments — adjusted to reflect the change in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) series for food away from home.

The adjustments, effective July 1, reflect the 4.9 per cent increase in the CPI for the period of November 1976 to May 1977.

The increased payments paid to schools and institutions through state agencies help defray meal preparation costs in the national school lunch, school breakfast and child care food programs.

The national average payment for the school lunch program will be increased from 13.25 cents to 14 cents for each lunch served. With the average, states are authorized by the U.S. Department of Agriculture to vary the rate of reimbursement up to a maximum of 20 cents per lunch.

The additional average payment for lunches served to needy children will be increased from 50 cents to 53 cents for a reduced-price lunch and from 60 cents to 63 cents for a free lunch.

The maximum total payment that states may pay to schools and institutions has been increased from 78.25 cents per lunch and from 88.25 cents to 92 cents for a free lunch.

Under the school breakfast program, the national average payment will be increased from 10.75 cents to 11.25 cents for each breakfast served.

Under the child care food program, states will receive the same payments for breakfast as those for the school breakfast program and the same payments for lunches and suppers as those for the national school lunch program.

Payments for each mid-morning and mid-afternoon snack allowed under the child care program have been increased from 5.50 cents to 5.75 cents.

The additional average payments for reduced-price snacks under this program will increase from 11 cents to 11.50 cents, and free snacks will increase from 16.50 cents to 17 cents.

In lieu of maintaining records on the actual cost of food used, sponsors of family and group day care homes in the child care food program will be used for each meal of 44.25 cents for each lunch or supper, 24.75 cents for each breakfast and 15 cents for each supplement served. These factors are also subject to change due to cost changes in the CPI.

The rates of payment just announced appear in the Federal Register dated July 1.

WASHINGTON GRADUATES

Sr. hot line—Plan for retirement years

Office of Lieutenant Governor O'Neal

Q. What are some of the things I should consider and do for retirement?

A. Following are a number of points to consider:

1. Sit down and figure out your retirement budget. Take into account all sources of income and all regular monthly expenses.

Sources of income include Social Security benefits, company or veteran's pensions, insurance policies, art and stock, and bond dividends.

2. Save on your taxes by going to your Internal Revenue Service office for a free booklet, "Tax Benefits for Older Americans."

3. If your retirement income is too low for you to live on, and post-retirement employment income.

Expenses include rent or mortgage payments, taxes, insurance, debt payments, food, household maintenance costs, clothing, transportation, medical care, recreation and education fees and gifts or contributions.

4. When you retire, your work-related expenses, such as payments into your retirement system, transportation to and from your job and union dues will cease.

5. Investigate retirement communities carefully. They vary greatly in services and costs.

make inquiries about old age assistance.

6. When you retire, your work-related expenses, such as payments into your retirement system, transportation to and from your job and union dues will cease.

7. If you want a full-time or part-time job, register with your State Employment Service and read through the classified advertisements. Remember that you are valuable to an employer because you are mature, reliable, trained, and experienced.

8. You may want to think of starting a second career or continuing your education.

9. Do not underestimate the value that an active mind and continuing goals have on a retired person's sense of self-worth and personal satisfaction.

10. If you want a full-time or part-time job, register with your State Employment Service and read through the classified advertisements. Remember that you are valuable to an employer because you are mature, reliable, trained, and experienced.

11. You may want to think of starting a second career or continuing your education.

12. You may want to think of starting a second career or continuing your education.

13. If your retirement income is too low for you to live on,

If you are over 72, you can earn as much as you like without being penalized.

Federal Bureau of Investigation.

A former Justice Department official under Republican administrations, Wood, 57, was the first of four finalists selected by a special Presidential committee to undergo first-round appraisal by the Carter administration.

Mr. Carter is in process of nominating a candidate for Senate confirmation to succeed FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley, who retires at the end of the year.

After his 15-minute White House conversation with Mr. Carter, Wood saw no implication in being first on the list of finalists.

"There was no significance in being first," he said in an interview. "It was just a matter of timing. And it was not even alphabetical."

Wood, a native of Springfield who sits on the bench before the 7th U.S. Court of Appeals, was punctilious in observing the protocol of private conversations with the President. He refrained from disclosing the names of his supporters.

"It was all very cordial, very businesslike and very much to the point."

Vice President Walter Mondale was the only other participant.

Bell also had his top deputy, Peter Flaherty, hand for his talk with Wood at the Justice Department.

Wood characterized it as "just a conversation" among participants sitting in chairs facing each other.

He said that although "there was nothing secret or confidential about the conversations, they 'belong' to the President and the attorney general."

"I am very pleased to be considered," Wood said. "I'd serve where the President thought I was qualified and could help."

Wood arrived promptly at 10:30 a.m. at Bell's fifth floor office for his half-hour interview with the attorney general.

They left the Justice Department together for the White House, where Bell also had an appointment with the President.

Wood's only comment at the Justice Department was: "When I left here, I didn't expect to be coming back."

He came to Washington in January 1973 as a Justice Department appointment as director of the Executive Office for U.S. Attorneys.

He was promoted in December 1973 to associate deputy attorney general, and was confirmed by the Senate in June 1972, as assistant attorney general of the Civil Division.

Wood left the Department to become a circuit judge for the Southern District of Illinois — including Granite City — in July 1973, and was elevated to his present position on the appellate court a year later.

Wood said he had not sought consideration as a nominee for the FBI directorship.

"I was totally surprised when I got a call from the committee to come down for an interview and was again surprised when the President announced I was among the five finalists."

Wins statewide honor

Miss Pamela Jean Tester, 16, of Granite City, placed fifth in competition with 15 other young ladies for the title of "Miss Illinois Teen Queen" in Peoria during the pageant. She excelled in her answer to the question of "What is your personal achievement and an essay of 100 words or less as to who in her opinion is the most outstanding woman who has lived today in America. Miss Tester took top honors in the latter category.

In presenting the essay entitled "Jon's Faith," Miss Tester said, "Jon Eareckson, at the age of 17, had a diving accident which severed and severed his spinal cord and was permanently paralyzed from the neck down.

"Jon's courage, determination, and her faith in God, make her one of the outstanding women alive today."

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Tester, 4028 Vesco Ave.,

Miss Tester continued, "These characteristics helped Joni to cope with paralysis and over come depression. After 10 years later, Miss Eareckson's original artwork that she composes by holding a flair pen between her teeth.

Jon enjoys sharing her faith and how God restored meaning into his life.

"And Jon feels that it is important to remember that God can do all things to work together for good."

Miss Eareckson, of Pana claimed the 1977 title of "Miss Illinois Teen Queen," topping all contestants selected by state and national officials from ranks of young women's (aged 13-17) scholastic achievements, civic contributions, leadership and citizenship.

The course includes 10 hours of emergency room-time at the trauma center and a three-hour class dealing with rescue techniques, first aid, and victims' transport in medical depression. It is a prerequisite for the examination offered by the Illinois Department of Public Health, which leads to certification as an Illinois emergency medical technician.

Special students may also qualify for the national registry examination for nationwide certification.

In similar programs at 35 Illinois trauma centers, more than 10,000 emergency medical technicians have been trained, as have hundreds of specialized nurses and physicians.

GC approves bill to control use, type of burglar alarms

An ordinance regulating the use of burglar alarms in the city of Granite City was approved by the Granite City Council Tuesday night with modifications to the way in which the ordinance will be enforced.

The new ordinance gives the Granite City chief of police the authority to enter homes to inspect their alarm systems "upon written notice," a "reasonable amount of time" before the inspection.

The ordinance was tabled by the council at two previous meetings as aldermen disagreed over the proposed enforcement which gave the inspector the authority to enter any premises having an alarm system "at reasonable times" and "upon reasonable oral notice," to inspect the alarm system.

Several aldermen objected that the original form of the ordinance gave the three named city officials too much authority to enter homes, so the modifications in the enforcement were made by City Attorney George Filoff.

The ordinance also requires each burglar alarm user to obtain an alarm users permit costing $1 per year from the city. The amount per year for the permit was blank when first presented and some aldermen were considering $5 or $10 for each permit, but a motion by Alderman Gerald "Jerry" Parmley June 21 for a $1 fee was approved unanimously by the council.

A permit will also be required of persons operating burglar alarm businesses, selling or leasing burglar alarms to homeowners and storeowners. That permit will also have a $1 fee.

The date when the permits are available is to be announced.

The ordinance also controls automatic devices which dial the police department's telephone number and play a recording relaying a burglary message.

Only systems which meet the city's specifications will be allowed to terminate at the police department to avoid an overloading of the alarm system from inexpensive systems.

Automatic dialing systems not meeting the city's specifications can only be set to dial an alarm service, rather than the police department, the ordinance specifies.

Each burglar alarm user who is issued a permit by the city will be allowed one false alarm each three months with no penalties. Subsequent false alarms during the three-month period will result in a $10 set fee.

The new central control panel is to be placed in the police department which can monitor up to 1,000 burglar alarm systems. Subsequent false alarms during the three-month period will result in a $10 set fee.

The ordinance is designed to control burglar alarms when the alarm system is placed in operation.

A new central control panel is to be placed in the police department which can monitor up to 1,000 burglar alarm systems. Subsequent false alarms during the three-month period will result in a $10 set fee.

NOW chapter gives $1,300 for lobby

Mrs. Norma Mendoza of Granite City was among local representatives of Metro-East Chapter of National Organization for Women (NOW) who presented a check for $1,300 during the weekend to state officers of NOW.

The local area women met in a hotel with Winona Stevens, Illinois NOW president, and Sharon Romjue, state secretary.

Mrs. Mendoza said the $1,300 represented proceeds from the April appearance of Gloria Steinem, noted author and women's rights leader, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The local NOW chapter also has set a meeting for 7 p.m. today at the First Baptist Church Savings and Loan Building, 300 St. Louis Ave., Edwardsville.

Anyone interested in helping women to assume their rights and responsibilities is welcome to attend, she added.

The funds presented to the NOW state officers were designated for the Illinois Women's Lobby.

In accepting the contribution from the Metro-East group, the NOW state president noted that appointing Mrs. Farley Peters as lobbyist in Springfield in March is a joint effort of Illinois NOW and the Illinois Women's Political Caucus.

"Out of all these issues, we selected priorities, the first and foremost of which is the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA)."

Mrs. Stevens said, "Several of our priorities were introduced this year for the first time — training programs for Displaced Homemakers, and corrective relief for women and children from domestic violence."

"Others were bills that we have seen introduced year after year — legislation for more efficient methods of child support, prohibition of past sexual conduct of victims as evidence in rape cases, and so

"Year after year we've seen no action on this legislation because there was no continuous lobby effort and no constant advocate for women to work for their passage," Mrs. Stevens said.

She continued, "The status of women in Illinois has never been a priority for the legislature. We intend to make it one and we are working to do so."

"We have had some success. Most of our bills have passed the House and look very good in the Senate. This work, of course, is very crucial. But this is only the beginning."

"We have very tough fights ahead of us. We are still all."

working for the ERA and it could come up any time."

Mrs. Stevens said, "Some of the 70 bills mentioned affect women very adversely and will harm, not help our status."

"We need to continue to build an aggressive lobbying effort that will put the message across to confront with the legislature. Together with NOW's work for women in communities across the state, our lobby effort will mean greater gains for women in the years ahead."

Mrs. Stevens praised the Metro-East Chapter for its efforts and stated, "The support of the local club's effort indicates the support of the women of this area and across the state for the National Organization for Women and our goal of an equal chance for all."

The "1977 Purification Act Singers" will appear at Second Baptist Church, 2100 Illinois Ave., at 8 p.m. Friday, July 15. As they are singing, the singing group is playing a mission on Jesus Christ and what He has done in their lives, according to Jack Jenkins, music director at the local church.

Sparks-Painter wedding at First Baptist Church

Tall, tanned holding arrangements of yellow roses, white daisies and white carnations intermingled with blue baby's breath provided a summer setting in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church for the wedding on June 25 of Miss Linda L. Painter and Jeffrey M. Sparks.

The Rev. Marvin Peters performed a double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening. Serving as ring bearers were John, Eric Painter, a nephew of the bride, and John Eric Painter, a nephew of the bride, serving as ushers were Miss Carla Morris and Miss Vicki Oshana.

For the daughter of the bride, Mrs. Linda L. Painter, a white lace dress with a formal length blue crepe and chiffon gown accented with a pink, blue and green floral pattern. She wore a corsage of white Sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Sparks, mother of the groom, was attired in a cream color floor length crepe gown complemented with a matching chiffon jacket. She wore a white Sweetheart roses.

English net appliqued with lace motifs, cuffed the long tapered white lace hem. The appliqued enhanced the Chapel train and slightly full skirt.

A Juliet cap of seed pearls and Venetian lace secured her fingertip veil, edged with Venetian lace.

She carried a cascade of yellow roses, white daisies and blue baby's breath festooned with yellow streamers.

Maid of honor Miss Mona C. and bridesmaids, Miss Sandra Baker, Miss Gail Kendall, Mrs. Marilyn Surbey, a sister of the groom, and Miss Lori Malottki, were gowned alike in yellow velvet dresses.

A white lace train marked the square necklines of the sleeveless bodices and ruffled flounces, which encircled the hemlines.

Each attendant wore a headband of white daisies and blue baby's breath in her hair and carried a bouquet of white carnations and yellow centered daisies, with sprigs of blue baby's breath and greenery and tiny blue streamers.

Stacy Peters served as the flower girl and wore a long white organza dress embossed with pink, blue, yellow and white.

Sanitary district schedules nine meetings monthly

A revision of the meeting schedule for the Metro-East Sanitary District board of trustees, approved at a board meeting in East St. Louis Wednesday, provides for nine regular meetings per month.

Under its previous schedule, the board met regularly only on the first Wednesday after the first Monday of the month, although special meetings were arranged at any time they were needed.

The new schedule calls for regular meetings on the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month, the first and third Wednesdays, the second and fourth Thursdays, the first and third Fridays and on the third Monday.

The motion under which the meetings were scheduled provides the meetings will be held either at 10 a.m. or 4:30 p.m., but does not specify particular times for each of the scheduled meetings which will be held in both East St. Louis and Granite City.

Since the members of the sanitary district board receive $40 per day for each meeting they attend, trustees can receive $360 monthly if they attend all meetings.

Proposes bill to revise GC council meeting rules

Noting that the City Council needs "at least three regular meetings a month" to complete its business, Alderman Sam Whitmer called Tuesday night for a revision of the council's third meeting ordinance that limits business that can be conducted during its third meeting of the month. Whitmer presented a motion that City Attorney George Filcoff be instructed to bring in an amendment to the meeting ordinance eliminating the limitations currently placed on the third meeting of the month, which is held on the fourth Tuesday of the month.

The City Council meets on the first, third and fourth Tuesdays of each month. Under present rules, no business is conducted during the meeting on the fourth Tuesday is limited to action on communications and does not permit action based on committee reports. This limits the council's business is limited in committee reports.

Whitmer criticized actions that caused abrupt adjournment of two council sessions — one on May 24 and another on June 29 — on motions by Alderman Charles Douglas of the First Ward.

Douglas contends that since the limitations are set out by ordinance, legally, some actions taken on fourth Tuesday meetings might be challenged. "We've been running these meetings for years without any trouble, and then someone decides we should not do any business at the third meeting," Whitmer said.

"We now have three regular meetings to get our business finished. We've had two abrupt adjournments which has left a lot of business to carry over."

"I think this is wrong," Whitmer then moved that the terms of the meeting ordinance limiting council action in the

GC nursing home issue resolved

The controversial issue as to whether or not Granite City should accept as a gift a 160-bed nursing home after its bonds have been paid off in 20 years was decided by the City Council Tuesday night in a 12 to 2 vote in favor of the proposal.

The only two dissenting votes were cast by Fred Schuman Jr. of the Fourth Ward and Paul Ray Bowler of the Seventh Ward.

Action on a resolution under which the city would accept the nursing home as a gift has been deferred. For the past two months while several aldermen sought more documentation and legal opinions as to whether the city would be assuming any liability after financing obligations are paid off at the end of a 20-year amortization period.

The council also was told that all requests for drainage, street construction and other factors have been met.

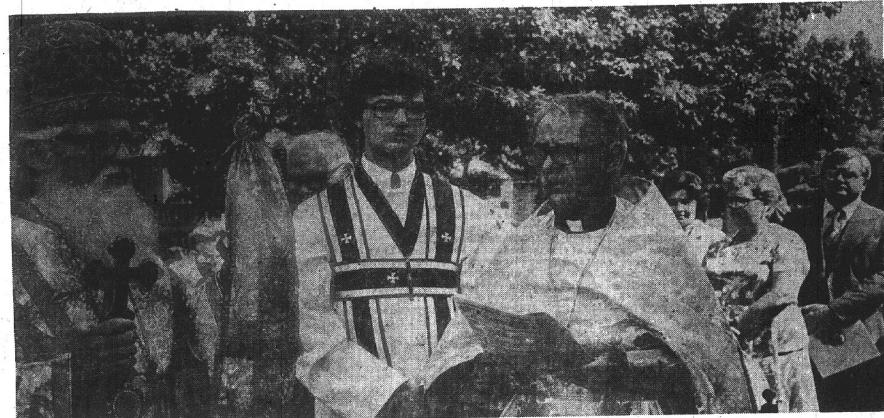

A majority of the council had approved the concept and indicated a willingness to accept the nursing home as a gift if the bonds were paid off, but requests for more documentation of financing procedures had delayed a final passage until Tuesday night.

told council members in Tuesday's meetings that he had talked with developers and financial sources and found that the city will in no way be responsible for any cost in connection with the building or the operation of the nursing home.

Developer of the project is Jerry Maeras of Madison who said the nursing home will be built in the 2900 block of Mockingbird Lane. He had proposed that the city assume the nursing home from cost after financing obligations are paid off at the end of a 20-year amortization period.

Aid Association promotes Pender

John H. Pender, 47, formerly of Granite City, vice president-investments at the Aid Association for Lutherans (AAL), Appleton, Wis., has assumed responsibilities as chief investment officer and head of the investment division at AAL.

As chief investment officer, he is responsible for prudent investment of AAL's more than $1.5 billion in assets for more than 11 million members nationwide.

AAL is the country's largest fraternal insurance society, in terms of assets and insurance in force, with its major investments in force exceeding $9 billion.

Pender replaces William H. Zuehlke, who retired at the end of June. Zuehlke had been AAL's chief investment officer for many years and had been with the association since 1946. Before that, Zuehlke was associated for 10 years with Harris, Hall & Co., investment bankers, in Chicago and New York.

Pender was born in Washington, D. C., and grew up in Grand Rapids. He received his bachelor of science degree in commerce from St. Louis University in 1952.

He was associated with Peoples Gas of Chicago, as vice president of investments from 1956 through 1969. He became assistant to the president of the Pacific Corp., New York City, in 1969.

Pender joined Reliance Insurance Companies, Philadelphia, as vice president-investments. In 1976, he joined AAL as vice president-investments.

Retha Crider was taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville at 7 p.m. Wednesday and Owings was taken at 4:40 a.m. today. Bond is set at $5,000 each.

Hospital security guards called police to report a smash window in the emergency room had been broken by a woman who later telephoned and said she was going to drive a car through the hospital.

A car with a man driving and a woman passenger came to the emergency room minutes later and police ordered the woman to get out of the car.

She refused and the driver allegedly told the officer "You can't get her." Force was used to remove the woman and police and security guards alleged struggling with both the woman and the man before they were taken.

Officers further alleged the woman tried unsuccessfully to kick a window out of the police car.

'I don't know'

In his book, The Relational Revolution, Bruce Larson says more of us could be a real help to other people if we just tried. He claims it's an error to think that only "professionals" can help others.

He quotes Dr. Paul Tournier, one of the best-known Christian counselors and therapists of our time. "I don't know how to help people," Tournier told Larson. "I don't do anything at all. What is important is that people find me a true friend, someone in whom they confide everything. What a privilege to find someone in whom you can confide without fear of being judged."

Studies tend to support the theory that a therapist's attitude toward his patient, not his theory or technique, makes counseling really effective, Larson says.

Larson also quotes Arthur Combs, one-time head of the department of education at the University of Florida at Gainesville. "There is no right or good method for either teaching or training teachers," Combs said. "The key in education is the spontaneous and instantaneous response to a person."

Teach your own self. As a student, was it the technique or the enthusiasm of your favorite teacher that helped you most? A retired teacher said to me, "No, I don't miss the classroom too much. Today, teachers must spend too much time on busywork, filling out forms and reports. I always wanted to give my time to the children."

The market is flooded with "how to" books on everything from raising cucumbers to rearing kids. But where people are involved, it's not always a question of what we know, but how we care. That's why some of the best parents in the world wouldn't know a course on child psychology if they saw one.

I think they "know" little, but they "feel" great. And healthy feelings, openly and honestly shared, are worth more than all the techniques in the world.

The Granite City Board of Appeals will consider three requests for variances on self-build requirements during the board's regular meeting at 1:15 p.m. Wednesday, July 13, at the city offices, 2301 Adams St. The city Plan Commission will be present at this time.

Richard Putnick, 1549 Rodger Ave., is requesting a variance to construct a carport touching his property line.

Ron Castle, 2640 Palmer Ave., wishes to construct a garage attached to his home which will end two feet from his side property line.

Larry S. Sauer, 2318 Newell Dr., is seeking permission to construct an attached garage four feet from his side property line, an appeal which was granted in August 1975, but which must again be considered since the deadline on the first appeal has expired. All three parcels of property are in areas zoned R-2 for single-family residential use.

The July 12 meeting of the Granite City Plan Commission has been cancelled "due to the inability of getting a quorum of board members because of vacation conflicts," according to William Dallas Jr., secretary for the Plan Commission and Board of Appeals.

Graceland Baptist scene of Click-Stoker nuptials

Miss Rita Stoker, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stoker, 3801 Lake Drive, and Mark Click, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Click, 3010 Dale Ave., were united in marriage on June 11 at Graceland General Baptist Church, 2030 Johnson Road.

Organist Kevin Fallis accompanied Norman McCall as he sang "More", "Whither Thou Goest" and "Colours My World" preceding the ceremony.

The Rev. Ronald Moneymaker officiated at the 4 p.m. double ring service before an altar banked with bouquets of white gladiolus and chrysanthemums intermingled with greenery.

Given away by the Rev. Rudolph Hickerson and the Rev. Moneymaker, the former Miss Stoker chose a full length white brocade satin gown.

Lace daisies accented the long puff sleeves, set into the fitted bodice featuring an oval neckline. The lace appliques marked the Empire waistline and formed two vertical rows in the semi-full skirt.

tiny embroidered daisies were appliqued at random on the fingertip veil secured by a lace comb behind the head. She held a bouquet of white carnations and baby's breath, centered with a corsage of blue, peach and pink carnations.

Honored guest Miss Natalie Stoker, a sister of the bride, wore a full length pale blue polyester cotton dress designed with a scoop neckline and short puff sleeves.

A blue ribbon inserted in white lace binding defined the waistline and enhanced the A-line skirt. The ribbon trim encircled the crown of blue picture hat and she carried an arrangement of blue, green, peach and pink carnations festooned with blue streamers.

Bridesmaids included Rita Hefner, Judy Click, a sister of the bride, and Shalene Mansfield, who has been a pen pal of the bride.

They were gown in identically styled dresses in pastel shades of peach, green and pink complemented with matching wide brim hats.

Each attendant held a bouquet of variegated blossoms tied with ribbons in hues to match the attire.

Mari Sol-Lena Click, a niece of the groom, served as flower girl. She wore a long white polyester gown with a creation with a square neckline and long puff sleeves. Yellow ribbon and white lace trimmed the waistline. She wore yellow blossoms in her hair and held a small bouquet of yellow carnations.

The groom chose his brother, James Click, as best man. Groomsmen were David Click and Victor Stoker, brothers of the bride, the couple, and Richard Gomerick.

Seating the guests were Clay Click and Robert Stoker.

Mrs. Stoker, mother of the bride, wore a full length light blue dress with white accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Click appeared in a formal mint green gown complemented with silver accessories.
